MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

The Receiver has completed her management and monetization of recoverable assets of the receivership estate, has determined no significant recovery of additional assets is likely, and therefore seeks approval of a plan to transfer receivership estate funds and records in her possession. Furthermore, the Federal Trade Commission ("Commission") has resolved its claims against Defendants Calderon, Capital Sun Investments, Duong, and Avitia-Pena. The Commission also obtained entry of a default judgment against Defendant Entities Impetus, Fig Tree, and Relief Defendant Noel Solutions and individual Defendant Brian Colombana. As such, the Receiver is prepared to close the receivership.

Unfortunately, the assets of the Receivership Entities had minimal value in relation to the number of prospective claimants (estimated to be tens of thousands based on Customer Relationship Management software databases obtained by the Receiver). Therefore, pursuing a claims and distribution process for all consumers, former personnel, or other creditors is not feasible.

The Receiver has recovered a total of $345,870.53. For the time period of November 13, 2018 to June 30, 2019, the Receiver's fees and costs approved and paid on an interim basis, including forensic imaging costs, amount to $75,912.44. Fees and costs for the Receiver's counsel approved and paid on an interim basis during the same time period amount to $37,573.70. After paying the $75,912.44 and $37,573.70 of receivership administrative fees and costs, plus other ordinary course expenses totaling $4,687.32, the receivership estate's cash balance is currently $227,697.07. The Receiver and her counsel will file their Final Fee Applications shortly hereafter.

The relief sought herein will allow the Receiver to take the remaining steps necessary to conclude the receivership, which includes transferring the remaining receivership estate funds (after payment of final fees and expenses proposed herein)

1 to the Commission and transferring the receivership estate records to the Internal 2 Revenue Service, with the express consent of the Commission's counsel.

3 I. RECEIVER'S FINAL ACCOUNTING AND REPORT

4 A. Background, Business Assessment and Business Records

5 The Court appointed the Receiver on temporary basis on November 13, 2018, 6 and on a permanent basis on November 29, 2018. Dkt. Nos. 23, 38. The Receiver's
7 bond was filed with the Court on December 6, 2018. Dkt. No. 40. Then on April 2, 8 2019, this Court entered a Superseding Second Preliminary Injunction with Asset
9 Freeze, Appointment of Receiver, and Other Equitable Relief, which modified the PI 10 Order in certain respects. Dkt. No 68. The orders are referred to hereinafter 11 collectively as the "PI Orders."

12 Pursuant to the PI Orders and law governing federal equity receivers, the 13 Receiver was charged with, among other things, assuming control over the 14 Receivership Entities and their assets ("Receivership Assets"). Promptly upon her 15 appointment, the Receiver assumed control over the leased premises located at 1651 16 E. 4th Street, Santa Ana, CA 92701 (the "Office Premises"), and served the TRO on 17 and retrieved mail from the virtual office locations identified in the TRO (18100 Von 18 Karman Ave. and 2252 Chambers Rd.). The Receiver made significant efforts to 19 identify other physical locations (numerous former and virtual addresses were 20 discovered and contacts associated with same thus served), but the one other physical 21 operating location discovered in the United States had been vacated by the time of 22 discovery.

23 With regard to the Office Premises, the Receiver took physical control, 24 changed the locks, served/notified the landlord through property management, 25 served/notified key vendors, and otherwise worked to ensure no entry into the 26
27
28

1 premises. Such physical records were moved to secure storage, and the suite was 2 emptied and turned over to the landlord.¹

3 In addition to the Commission providing notice of the asset freeze, the 4 Receiver also promptly notified each bank and credit card payment processor 5 identified as having an account associated with the Receivership Entities. In such 6 notices, the Receiver demanded turnover of the account, immediate cancellation of 7 any debit or credit cards, identification/freeze of any safe deposit box, account 8 balance and reserve information, and account records. As previously mentioned, the 9 Receiver recovered approximately $346,000, which primarily included bank account 10 balances and payment processor reserve balances.

11 The operational appearance of the Office Premises was that of a call center, 12 with a few offices and cubicles located throughout. Through the interviews of 13 employees on site, the Receiver learned that the student loan debt relief services were 14 marketed through mailers, call leads were purchased and that ultimate relief results 15 may not be known (e.g., the company may have to contact the client or Department 16 of Education directly to obtain results). Call scripts and other similar documents 17 were located, including a document entitled "Mandatory Enrollment Fees". Based 18 upon (a) this document, which states that "First payment needs to be scheduled 19 within 5-10 days of enrollment date", (b) bank records showing six figure monthly 20 receipts, (c) sample customer data pulled from the CRM software showing payment 21 requirements in the contract and payments reflected in the CRM system, and (d) 22 other information gleaned from interviews discussed below, it appeared very likely 23 that payments were demanded and/or received prior to services being rendered 24 and/or results delivered.

25 Accordingly, and with no cash available to fund any level of operations (less 26 than $15 in the Studora-related operating accounts at takeover), the Receiver

27 _____
28 ¹ The Studora contract employees were given several opportunities to retrieve personal belongings before the space was emptied.

1 determined the business could not be operated at all, let alone operated legally and 2 profitably, and therefore suspended operations.

3 The Receiver obtained control over website hosting, domain registration and 4 email service provider accounts of the Receivership Entities. Due to the fact the PI 5 Orders did not provide specific reference to the websites and the accounts were held 6 under various names, a considerable effort was undertaken to gain access. Once 7 access was granted, the Receiver was able to redirect traffic from those websites to 8 the receivership website. This effectively shut down the Receivership Entities web 9 presence and disabled the ongoing marketing of the Receivership Entities' debt relief 10 services. It also served to notify the previous customers of the Receivership Entities 11 of the Receiver's appointment and provided basic information to assist them in their 12 search for debt relief.

13 Additionally, as the email accounts controlled by GoDaddy.com appeared to 14 hold very little information, the Receiver continued to search for any other email 15 service providers. As part of that process, the Receiver noted that four domains used 16 Microsoft as the provider of their email services and accordingly issued notice of the 17 PI Order to them. Shortly thereafter, the Receiver was contacted by outside counsel 18 for Microsoft requesting that the Receiver seek a specific order from the Court 19 directing them to turn over access. After various discussions and negotiations, 20 Microsoft agreed to freeze and preserve the accounts, notify the owners of the 21 accounts and then, absent an objection within five days, turn over control to the 22 accounts. That access was gained on Friday January 11, 2019, and the Receiver 23 thereafter secured the data in the One Drive accounts and over 240 email accounts 24 related to four domains.

25 The Receiver also obtained access to CRM software platforms and 26 Intuit/QuickBooks online accounts. Unfortunately, the data in QuickBooks accounts 27 was incomplete, although some information was obtained. Additional possible 28

1 vendors were also noticed, however substantive or current information from those 2 vendors was limited.

3 B. Asset Disposition and Recovery

4 Other than the funds recovered as described herein, no additional Receivership 5 Entity funds or assets appear available for recovery, including real property. As 6 noted above, the Receiver was able to recover approximately $346,000, which 7 included limited recoverable value of the personal property from the Office Premises 8 – which for the most part, consisted of CPU's, computer monitors, cubicles and other 9 miscellaneous office furniture, fixtures and equipment.

10 C. Receiver Reporting and Communications

11 At the beginning of the receivership, the Receiver established a dedicated web 12 page, which has provided case information and updates for access by consumers, 13 former personnel and creditors. The internet address for the webpage is 14 <http://www.ethreadvisors.com/ftc-case-docs/ftc-v-impetus-et-al/>. The Receiver also 15 maintained a dedicated email address and telephone line for consumer inquiries. The 16 website also includes a platform for consumers to sign-up for direct updates from the 17 Receiver – such sign-up currently totals 403 people.

18 D. Receivership Accounting

19 As of June 22, 2020, the receivership bank accounts contain a total balance of 20 $227,697. The following is a summary of the cash activity in the receivership estate 21 bank account and/or Receiver-controlled bank accounts for the period from 22 November 16, 2018 through June 22, 2020:

RECEIVERSHIP ESTATE CASH ACTIVITY:
Capital Sun Investments – Chase Bank Recovery	$6,783
Premiere Capital Investments – Chase Bank Recovery	$13
Fig Tree – Chase Bank Recovery	$2
Impetus Enterprise – Wells Fargo Bank Recovery	$27,565

1	Electronic Merchant Systems Reserve Recovery	$143,938
2	Choice Merchant Solutions Reserve Recovery	$124,905
3	Madera Merchant Reserve Recovery	$31,039
4	Payliance Merchant Reserve Recovery	$10,558
5	FF&E Proceeds (net of moving costs)	$1,000
6	Interest Income	$68
7	Receiver Fees Paid	($75,912)
8	Receiver Legal Fees Paid	($37,574)
9	Operating Expenses Paid	($4,688)
10	Cash Balance as of June 22, 2020	$227,697

12 II. CLOSING MATTERS

13 A. Payment of Outstanding Fees and Costs

14 As noted above, the receivership estate currently holds $227,697. As reflected 15 in the Final Fee Applications of the Receiver and her counsel, which will be filed 16 shortly hereafter, since July 1, 2019, the Receiver has incurred fees and costs totaling 17 $3,775.05 and her counsel has incurred fees and costs totaling $8,617.85. The work 18 done by the Receiver and her counsel is described in detail in the Final Fee 19 Applications, which seek approval of these fees and costs, as well as the 20% of fees 20 voluntarily held back from prior interim fee applications of the Receiver and her 21 counsel, $16,660.35 and $8,937.36, respectively. Finally, the Receiver requests 22 authority to pay herself a total of up to $3,600.00 to complete tasks remaining to 23 close the receivership (including estimated costs to transfer records) and her counsel 24 a total of up to $3,000 for legal tasks associated with the Receiver's remaining work.²

25 _____
26 ² These estimates of fees for remaining work assume that this Motion will be 27 unopposed and approved by the Court without a hearing. If either turns out not to 28 be the case, adjustments to the estimates of fees and costs for remaining work (and a corresponding adjustment to the estimated funds remaining in the receivership estate when all work has been completed) may need to be made.

1 The remaining Receiver tasks and legal tasks are described in the Final Fee 2 Applications.

3 Assuming the Final Fee Applications are approved, the funds remaining in the 4 receivership will be approximately $183,000. As noted above, due the large number 5 of potential claimants, the lack of an accounting showing their claims/losses, and the 6 limited amount of funds, it is simply not feasible to conduct a claims and distribution 7 process for all potential claimants. Therefore, the Commission has requested and the 8 Receiver has agreed, subject to Court approval, that the remaining funds will be 9 turned over to the Commission. Accordingly, the Receiver requests authority to turn 10 the funds remaining in the receivership estate, after payment of Court-approved fees 11 and costs, to the Commission.

12 B. Disposition/Transfer of Records

13 As noted above, the Commission has requested, and the Receiver has agreed, 14 subject to Court approval, to have the records relating to the Receivership Entities 15 that are in the Receiver's possession turned over to the Internal Revenue Service 16 ("IRS"). The Receiver, therefore, requests authority to proceed with turnover of 17 these records to the IRS. If for any reason the IRS declines to accept the records, or 18 any portion thereof, the Receiver requests authority to make the materials available 19 to the Commission, or if the Commission declines to accept them, to destroy them.

20 C. Discharge of Receiver

21 The Receiver has taken all appropriate steps to preserve and recover value 22 from the limited assets of the Receivership Entities. The Receivership Entities' assets 23 were marshalled, protected, and monetized to the extent possible. Unfortunately, 24 despite significant efforts to obtain records which could help identify prospective 25 assets, the value of such assets was limited relative to the prospective claimant pool.
26 The Commission has also resolved its litigation. As such, it is appropriate for the 27 Receiver to ask the Court to enter an order discharging her.

28

1 III. ARGUMENT

2 A. Broad Equitable Powers of the Court

3 "The power of a district court to impose a receivership or grant other forms of 4 ancillary relief does not in the first instance depend on a statutory grant of power 5 from the securities laws. Rather, the authority derives from the inherent power of a 6 court of equity to fashion effective relief." SEC v. Wencke, 622 F.2d 1363, 1369 7 (9th Cir. 1980). The "primary purpose of equity receiverships is to promote orderly 8 and efficient administration of the estate by the district court for the benefit of 9 creditors." SEC v. Hardy, 803 F.2d 1034, 1038 (9th Cir. 1986). As the appointment 10 of a receiver is authorized by the broad equitable powers of the Court, any 11 distribution of assets must also be done equitably and fairly. See SEC v. Elliot, 12 953 F.2d 1560, 1569 (11th Cir. 1992).

13 District courts have the broad power of a court of equity to determine the 14 appropriate action in the administration and supervision of an equity receivership.
15 See SEC v. Capital Consultants, LLC, 397 F.3d 733, 738 (9th Cir. 2005). As the 16 Ninth Circuit explained:

17 A district court's power to supervise an equity receivership 18 and to determine the appropriate action to be taken in the 19 administration of the receivership is extremely broad. The 20 district court has broad powers and wide discretion to 21 determine the appropriate relief in an equity receivership.
22 The basis for this broad deference to the district court's supervisory role in equity receiverships arises out of the fact that most receiverships involve multiple parties and complex transactions. A district court's decision concerning the supervision of an equitable receivership is reviewed for abuse of discretion.

23 Id. (citations omitted); see also Commodities Futures Trading Comm'n. v. Topworth 24 Int'l, Ltd., 205 F.3d 1107, 1115 (9th Cir. 1999) ("This court affords 'broad deference'
25 to the court's supervisory role, and 'we generally uphold reasonable procedures 26 instituted by the district court that serve the[e] purpose' of orderly and efficient 27 administration of the receivership for the benefit of creditors."). Accordingly, the

28

1 Court has broad equitable powers and discretion in the administration of the 2 receivership estate.

3 B. Conclusion of Receivership and Discharge of Receiver

4 Federal District Courts presiding over federal equity receiverships have broad 5 power and wide discretion in the supervision of the same. SEC v. Hardy, 803 F.2d 6 1034, 1037-38 (9th Cir. 1986). Their power and discretion includes the authority to 7 "make rules which are practicable as well as equitable." Id. at 1039 (quoting First 8 Empire Bank-New York v. FDIC, 572 F.2d 1361, 1368 (9th Cir. 1978)). In this case, 9 the Court's supervision of the receivership is guided by these same rules.

10 The Receiver has diligently carried out her Court-ordered duties, including 11 assuming control of enterprises and their records (such records have or will be 12 transferred as presented herein), marshalling assets to the extent possible, and 13 providing reports to the Court. As there is no further benefit to be gained from 14 maintaining this receivership, with no ability to legally or profitably operate and with 15 insufficient funds to effectuate a claims and distribution process for all potential 16 claimants, the Receiver requests that she be discharged and the case be closed.

17 The Receiver, therefore, requests an order discharging and fully releasing her 18 of: (i) all duties under the PI Orders and subsequent orders of the Court, and (ii) any 19 and all claims and liabilities associated with the case and the Defendants. The 20 Receiver asks the Court to approve transfer of the remaining funds (after payment of 21 the final expenses presented herewith) to the Commission and transfer of the 22 remaining records to the Internal Revenue Service. In addition, the Receiver asks the 23 Court to approve and ratify all actions taken by the Receiver and her professionals in 24 the performance of the Receiver's Court-ordered duties. The Receiver further 25 requests the Court retain exclusive jurisdiction over any and all new actions or claims 26 related to the receivership or work done by the Receiver and her professionals to 27 carry out the Receiver's Court-ordered duties.
